Cory is a member of our Estate Planning group. As a CPA, Cory assists high net worth individuals with tax planning, consulting, and tax return compliance, including the preparation of gift, trust and estate returns. Before coming to Hinkle Law Firm, Cory had spent 8 years in public accounting working on business structuring and tax compliance for business and related individuals that ranged from start-ups all the way up to businesses with billion dollar valuations.

Cory is also actively involved with our Estate Administration and Fiduciary Services department working to ensure proper reporting to trustees and third parties. He consults with our attorney-trustees on a regular basis, and coordinates with our clients' CPAs to ensure proper tax compliance.
