Madison is an associate attorney in Hinkle Law Firm LLC's business and corporate law, real estate, and water law practice groups and is based in the firm's Wichita office. Madison's practice focuses on various transactional legal matters, such as real estate sales and acquisitions, leasing, due diligence and resolution of title issues in commercial development, as well as matters related to agriculture.

Madison grew up on a farm near Pratt, Kansas, and, as a result, developed a keen interest in agricultural law, particularly water law. Her family's farm has been in the family for six generations, producing irrigated and dryland corn, wheat, soybeans, and cattle. A fourth generation K-Stater, Madison attended Kansas State University and received a Bachelor of Music in Vocal Performance. She then continued her operatic training at the Indiana University Jacobs School of Music, where she was working on a Master of Music in Vocal Performance before deciding to go to law school.

When not at work, Madison enjoys running, going to concerts, spending time with family, and cheering on the K-State football team.
